Are always "beautiful" and always "happy" according to the society reporters, and in this case the report is mostly true.
There may be unhappy brides in fiction, but there are few in real life.
But how hard it is to look upon many of the wives we know, and believe that they were once beautiful and happy. Pain, the result of womanly disease, has marred beauty and undermined happiness.

The business community of Fredericksourg was surprised yesterday to learn that the steamer Tourist, of the People's Line, which started 12 months ago to ply the Rappahannock as far as Urbana, to Baltimore, had been taken off her

As stated in a recent communication from Fredericksburg, about $1,200 worth of stock of this line is owned by that city, $200 has been donated by the Business Men's Association and a large block of the stock was subscribed by the farmers along the Ra pahannock river. A number of the board of directors are business men of Fredericksburg, and the announcement was as much of a surprise to them as to the business conneunity. President Carter, of the People's Line, asked as to the withdrawal of the steamers, said: "The business men of Fredericksburg lately have not been giving the People's Line the cordial support they formerly did, and for that reason Gibson. In a burst of well-feigned and playful affection the woman proposed that they do tricks with a rope which she brought with her. The husband allowed himself to be tied several times, each time getting loose. Mrs. Rogers suggested that Perham try his hand, and he bound himself to be tied several times, each time getting loose. Mrs. Rogers suggested that Perham try his hand, and he bound Rogers securely he says. From her pocket Mrs. Rogers then quickly drew a hand-kerchief, which she saturated with chloroform and placed over her husband's face. Then, Perham testified, she wrote a note with these words on it and pinned it to Rogers. "I am going to drown myself, and nobody is to blame for my death." To this she signed her husband's name After Rogers had died from the effects of the chloroform Perham threw the body into the river, and hand in hand the two returned to their home.

ADRIFT ON ICEBERG —The passengers and crew of the North German Lloyd steamship Hanover, which arrived at Baltimore yesterday from Bremen, were treated to a novel spectacle a few days ago, while off Newfoundland Banks, where a large iceberg was sighted, and on the great mountain of ice, perambulating about from cliff to cliff were six large polar bears. The berg was several miles from the Hannover, but the bears were plainly visible with the naked eye to those on the vessel, but through a glass the huge animals could be seen swinging their ponderous nheads to and fro as they walked about on their floating home. How the bears got on the berg and their probable fate afforded food for much speculation among the passengers as they stood on the deck and watched the mountain of ice and its prisoners growing smaller in the distance as night came on. Spring is the usual season for icebergs, and the presence of the piece of an Arctic glacier on the Atlantic at this time of the year is unusual. The bears were evidently on the iceberg when it glided from the shore into the Atlantic Ocean. It will drift south until melted to nothing by the warm waters of the Gulf Stream.
